U.S. Army Creates Post at Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—The Northwest Service Command of the U.S. Army has established the Post of Edmonton to administer and supply certain installations of the U.S. army in this city, it was announced today. Col. R. W. Dusenbury, graduate from the West Point Military Academy in the 1907 class, is commanding officer.

Opposing Fry

EDMONTON (CP)—Thomas J. Cairns, postoffice employee, announced today he would seek election as mayor of this city in the Nov. 10 election. He is the only candidate in the field in opposition to Mayor John W. Fry.

100,000 Miners Idle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strikes spread further today in the U.S. soft coal fields, the number of idle miners rising well above 100,000 in the face of a promise of Presidential intervention unless union officials send them back to work Monday.

Shipbuilding Record

PORTLAND, Ore. (CP)—This wartime shipbuilding centre launched its 500th ocean-going vessel in 33 months today. Portland boosters believe their yards have set a shipbuilding record for any comparable area in the world. Approximately $1,000,000 worth of steel ships, totaling more than 40,000 tons, have been launched by the six yards in the Portland area since February, 1941.

Gambling Halted

CHICAGO (AP)—A 20-day investigation of gambling and its ramifications by a grand jury has halted operations of most of the city's estimated 700 handbooks, Virgil W. Peterson, Chicago crime commission's director, disclosed today. Other forms of commercialized gambling also were reported at a standstill.

Charged With Killing

TORONTO (CP)—Fred Zulu, 60, today was formally charged with the slaying of 26-year-old Anna Ukrezn, clubbed to death Friday in a roominghouse.

End of Dimout Sunday at Midnight

The dimout will end tomorrow at midnight. Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., G.O.C.-in-chief, Pacific Command today advised Premier John Hart, chairman of the provincial civilian protection committee of this fact. Mr. Hart has left such matters up to the defence chiefs of the coast.

Gen. Pearkes advised the Premier as follows: "Matter of dimout has been discussed with the heads of the other services in Pacific Command and it is considered that military situation now permits the suspension of dimout lighting restrictions as at Nov. 1, in conformity with similar action by U.S. authorities on Pacific coast."

This means porch lights, street lights, store windows, electric and neon signs, and theatre marquees may shine in full brilliance again and that citizens will not have to pull down window shades unless they want to.

HURRICANE on View St.

Tonight is your last chance to see and learn at first hand all about the Hurricane that has done and is doing such wonders on all fighting fronts. R.C.A.F. Pilots will be on hand to show you over. But, remember, more and still more of these fighters are needed for OUR fighters and every Bond that you buy during the 5th Victory Loan Campaign is the means to that end—and to a victorious end of the war.

The Most Thrilling Story I Have Heard In All My Life!

Telephone: Marine 312

Mr. J. W. Spencer,
Chairman, Division #9
War Finance Committee,
c/o David Spencer Limited,
Victoria, B. C.

Dear Mr. Spencer,

I have just returned from hearing Wing Commander Guy P. Gibson, V.C., D.S.O. and Bar, D.F.C. and Bar. In simple, unaffected terms, this 25-year-old Englishman told the most thrilling story I have heard in all my life. I wish everyone to whom this letter is addressed could have been listening with me.

Wing Commander Gibson, as you know, gained world fame as the leader of the Squadron that effectively destroyed the Mohne and Eder dams. He told first of the importance of their target, providing as it did the life-blood of electrical power for the Ruhr industrial valley. He told of being assigned for special training months before the actual raid. He told of the arduous training; the models which were built; and the experiments which were tried.

Above all, he told of the momentous flight—skimming, fifty feet above the ground, the long miles to the target. He told of the powerful bombs, which had to be dropped within a five-yard range; how the first bomb had been expertly placed; how ten minutes later the second plane in his Squadron came in, laid its bomb and was destroyed; of the third plane; and the fourth plane, which also crashed; how, after being forty minutes in the air over the target, the fifth plane was ordered to attack and how his order was received with, "That's what we've been waiting for!" Then he told of the surge of water that followed and how, with one day destroyed, they flew on to the other and destroyed it too; and how, after seven hours over Germany, the remaining eight of the original sixteen planes returned home to England.

My first intention was to write a formal letter, asking for your continued co-operation for Canada's Fifth Victory Loan, which, as you know, is scheduled to commence October 1st. After hearing Wing Commander Gibson I could not, in my heart, write an ordinary letter. I thought of how little we are asked to do; how little our fellow citizens are asked to do in loaning their money so that such boys can be given the proper equipment. So it is with a humble feeling I ask, on behalf of the Wing Commander Gibson, your continued support in this, the largest financial undertaking of our history.

Very truly yours,

George K. Kidd
Chairman
Province of B. C. and Yukon

Mr. George K. Kidd wrote this letter after hearing from Wing Commander Gibson, V.C., how the Mohne and Eder dams were blown up. . . . "I thought of how little we are asked to do."

British In 5th Army Take Town On Left Flank of New Nazi Line

By NOLAND NORGAARD.
ALGIERS (AP)—British troops of the 5th Army, storming across the Regia Canal in a three-mile plunge, have occupied the seaside town of Mondragone to ram squarely against lofty Mount Massico, western anchor of the new German line in Italy, it was announced today.

Further inland, U.S. forces developed a flanking threat against Mount Massico, capturing Pietravara, which dominates both the Upper Volturno River valley and the main Capua-Rome highway.

Simultaneously, the British 8th Army to the east forged ahead to take Montemiro, on the river bank of the Tigno River 14 miles inland from their bridgehead in the San Salvo area, where the heaviest fighting on the Italian front still raged.

(The 8th Army is now 12½ miles beyond Campobasso and immediately before the German line, the Cairo radio said.)

Wants Labor Pacts Signed

Labor Minister Geo. Pearson, on behalf of the government, today asked employers to sign agreements with their employees as soon as they are reached.

In reply to a big labor delegation which met the cabinet Tuesday asking for clarification of this subject, Mr. Pearson said it was the government's intention that this be done, under terms of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

ARBITRATING ISSUE

"Much embarrassment has been caused of late in British Columbia through refusal of many employers to sign agreements with unions representing employees and at present many arbitration boards are sitting on this issue alone," Mr. Pearson said.

At present two logging firms, Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company, Chemainus, and Comox Logging and Railway Company, Ladysmith, are having disputes with their employees arbitrated; while three more, Industrial Timber Mills, Lake Cowichan, Canadian Western Lumber Co. and Bloedel, Stewart and Welch are awaiting arbitration boards. Nearly 5,000 men are involved. An arbitration board re-

Canada Prepares For Offensive as Pacific Power

By NORMAN MACLEOD
Chief, Parliamentary Correspondent,
British United Press

Where will the offensive that Canada is preparing for on the Pacific strike?

That is the absorbing subject of conversation on this west coast theatre these days.

Naturally, there is no official statement on this point. Canada's Pacific Command is waging its own war of nerves and is—very inconsiderately so far as Mr. Tojo is concerned—declining to give the enemy any advance information as to where it intends to strike. But that fact does not prevent large-scale speculation on the subject, and there is a strong belief that much of this speculation, especially that current in better-informed quarters, is destined to prove fairly close to the mark.

At one time the belief was general that Canada's forces would cross the North Pacific to join the Russians in opening a second front against Japan. That belief, however, has been pretty well abandoned. The idea now is almost universally accepted that Russia intends to confine her military operations to Europe, where she is steadily driving Hitler's hordes back towards German soil.

OFFENSIVE TACTICS

The expectation in informed circles at present is rather that the United Nations' pending all-out drive against Japan will be launched somewhere in the southern and western Pacific. And it is taken for granted that Canadian naval, military and air units will be part of the attacking force. Significant support for this belief is furnished by the fact that over past weeks and months the nature of the training which Pacific coast military units are receiving has been changed so as to equip them particularly for southern Pacific warfare. Notably have defensive tactics almost wholly disappeared from training camps' curricula, and their place taken instead by commando tactics and practice in offensive warfare.

CANADA AS PACIFIC POWER

Along the west coast here it is realized that these apparent preparations for active Canadian participation in southern and western Pacific warfare hold important implications for the future of Canada, the nation. They mean, it is recognized, that this nation is preparing to assert its full status as a great Pacific power, and is not going to rest content with being simply a northern Pacific power at most.

The Canadian expedition to the Aleutians, for example, could not possibly have had the significance for Canadian foreign policy that an expedition to win back, say, the Dutch East Indies will have, if and when it comes. For the Aleutians are virtually an outpost of Canada, while the Dutch East Indies are a part of the wide general picture of Pacific strategy.

If Canada fights as current preparations indicate she will—in the southern and western Pacific—she will have asserted her right to be regarded as a Pacific power in the widest sense, and to a full voice in the concert of Pacific nations when the time comes at the Peace Conference to plan the postwar world in the Pacific theatre. That pretty clearly is the goal of the picture of broad Canadian strategy that is shaping up on the west coast here.

It may occur to some that this policy logically must have its Atlantic ocean counterpart. If Canada is planning to be a great Pacific power, should she not be a planning to be a great Atlantic power as well? And will such a policy not lead inevitably, to full membership when the war is over in the Pan-American Union?

Identify Men Lost Off Prince Rupert

Four prairie airmen formed the crew of the twin-engine R.C.A.F. monoplane missing since Tuesday in the Prince Rupert area, said the Western Air Command of the R.C.A.F. today.

They were: P.O. A. J. Chandler, Ribstone, Alta.; W.O. G. Marshall, St. Walburg, Sask.; Flt. Sgt. Henry Chambers, Winnipeg; and Flt. Sgt. V. C. Arnold of Regina.

Search for the aircraft, last heard from in the Dixon Entrance area 30 miles west of Prince Rupert while on a routine patrol flight, is continuing.

1,200 Island Miners To Stop Work Monday

3 Soviet Armies Drive to Complete Dnieper Bend Trap

LONDON (CP)—Three Russian armies converged on the key stronghold of Nikopol on the Lower Dnieper River today in a multiple drive to complete the entrapment of German forces in the Dnieper bend.

Two other Red Army forces at the same time were surging west and south of Melitopol to seal off German positions in the Crimean Peninsula. One smashed through 80 towns to take Bolshoi Utyug, 45 miles from the northeastern corner of the Crimea, while the second captured Torgayevka, less than 50 miles from Perekop, which bottlenecks the escape corridor at the northwestern edge of the peninsula.

Gains of 15 miles were reported in this sector by the Russian communiques.

One prong of the triple threat to Nikopol cracked a wide German "defence-in-depth" line in the Balki-Malaya-Byelozerska salient, and battled its way through the steppe towns of Malaya-Baloveschenka and Bolshoi-Byelozerska, west and south-west of Nikopol, chief manganese-producing centre in south Russia.

The other prong, operating inside the Dnieper bend 30 miles south-west of Dnepropetrovsk, smashed ahead six miles to invest Alexandrovka, 42 miles north of Nikopol.

The third threat to Nikopol was revealed by the Berlin radio, which said strong Russian forces were plunging across the Dnieper River just below Zaporozhye, with the evident intention of driving down the west bank of the river to strike Nikopol from the east. The Moscow bulletin did not mention this new thrust.

Krivoi Rog, Ukrainian iron centre, 50 miles northwest of Nikopol, was still holding out against fierce Red Army assaults, while the reinforced German garrison was reportedly staging heavy tank and infantry counterattacks.

Public Statement At Week-end On Moscow Conference

MOSCOW (AP)—Formal conclusion of the 11-day-old three-power conference was in sight today as diplomatic experts put finishing touches on their draft of the war and postwar agreements reached by the representatives of Great Britain, the United States and Russia.

(An official statement on the results of the conference is expected from the Russian capital this week-end, the NBC and CBS correspondents in London reported.)

NAZI TALK

LONDON (AP)—The German radio in a broadcast of reports from Stockholm said today that British and United States delegates to the Tri-power Conference in Moscow had "made a detailed proposition to the Soviet Union regarding a second front, with a fixed date."

German reaction to President Roosevelt's announcement of the success of the conference centred on attempts by Berlin to picture Britain and the U.S. as yielding to Soviet demands and abandoning their postwar plans for free and independent countries.

The German propaganda agency Transocean said Britain was turning to a policy which contemplated a joint Anglo-Soviet rule in Europe.

"Eden (British Foreign Secretary) has accepted a Russian request to leave eastern Poland outside the discussion," the agency said. "He also agreed in principle that the Polish emigre government in London should be reconstructed."

In the absence of official word on the terms of the Moscow agreement, the London Star editorially said that "first reports hint that one major item decided on was a plan for policing defeated Germany."

Victorians Face Coal Shortage

Percy Lawson, Nanaimo U.M.W.A. local secretary, said today that 1,250 Vancouver Island coal miners will meet at Nanaimo and Cumberland Sunday to ratify the order from U.M.W.A. district headquarters to strike at midnight Sunday.

"The island miners will unquestionably strike with the 8,000 other men in British Columbia and Alberta mines," Mr. Lawson said in a telephone interview. He reported the strike order was received this morning.

Victorians face chilly homes within a very short time if the strike scheduled to start Monday morning continues without settlement.

Coal dealers of Greater Victoria took a gloomy view of the situation. All agreed there is no coal on hand in the city and that this time next week no deliveries could possibly be made if the strike continues.

One dealer expressed the opinion, however, that people of Victoria never before had so much coal stored in their basements. He thought most people would be all right, although admitting some people are bound to be cold if the strike goes on.

Little Stock on Hand Say Mine Officials

Department of Mines officials at the Parliament Buildings today said there is very little coal stock on hand. There has been no opportunity in recent years to build up reserves.

Labor Minister Geo. Pearson said "the matter is out of our jurisdiction—it is a federal matter entirely."

Premier John Hart said he had no comment to make. Mines Minister E. C. Carson is out of town, visiting his home constituency of Lillooet.

"It's extremely serious," commented Dr. J. F. Walker, deputy minister of mines. One coal mine authority said the miners have many grounds for striking; that they have had a tough time and have seen their 'teen-age sons leave the mines for much higher paid, cleaner and safer jobs in other industry. Vancouver Island mines average about 2,000 tons of coal a day. Last month, for instance, the island mines produced 61,194 tons. For the first nine months of this year output amounted to 568,364 tons.

Earlier this month, before the coal strike became definite, the B.C. Department of Mines sounded a warning about a coal situation that was then becoming serious, even without stoppage of work.

The department, at that time, said every indication pointed to a further decrease because of the continued scarcity of miners and mine employees.

There are about 1,200 men in Vancouver Island mines and about 2,400 in the rest of the province. Biggest island mines are those at Wellington and Cumberland, which last month produced 48,500 tons between them.

Robert Livett of Calgary, district leader, issued the coal strike order late Friday night, a few hours after a Royal Commission to inquire into coal mine wage rates had begun hearings here.

Mr. Livett announced the strike was being called as a protest against the whole "dilly-dallying" policy of the National War Labor Board.

In Calgary—Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor, chairman of the commission, announced he had been in telephone communication with Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, federal Minister of Labor, since the announcement of the strike.

Mr. Mitchell had suggested that district 18 executive of the United Mine Workers should go to Ottawa on his invitation with the understanding that mine work continue in the meantime. Mr. Livett after a brief conference with other members of his executive told the commission they would be prepared to go to Ottawa but the strike would continue.

Clement Stubbs, secretary-treasurer of the Western Canada Bituminous Coal Operators' Association, added a suggestion that a delegation of the operators should also proceed to Ottawa.

As a result Commissioner O'Connor instructed a telegram to be sent to the Minister of Labor stating the miners' executive and the operators were willing to proceed to Ottawa but that the strike action of the miners would not be suspended in the meantime.

Commission Hearing At Nanaimo Canceled

Because of the sudden turn in events in the coal mine dispute the commission decided that while it would complete the Calgary hearing today, other sessions scheduled for Drumheller, Blairmore and Nanaimo would be canceled.

The sittings outside of Calgary, said Commissioner O'Connor, would not serve any useful purpose at the present time.

At the opening of the session today the chairman pointed out this was the first time in western Canada that a strike had been called in the midst of an inquiry.

Mr. Livett in response to a request of the chairman to explain the action of the miners declared that on several occasions inquiries had been made for Drumheller, Blairmore and Nanaimo would be canceled.

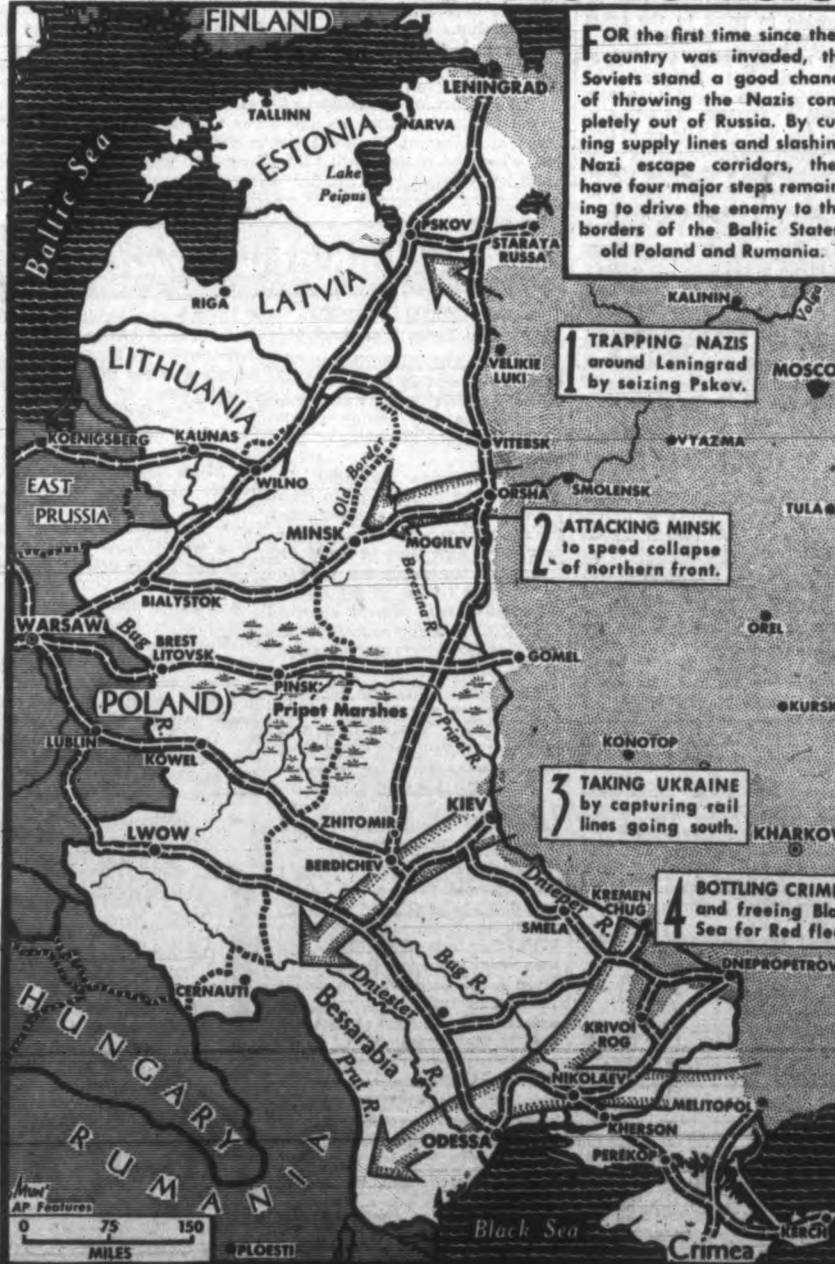

The miners Friday, he said, had announced their determination not to submit the issue to the National Labor Board, and the Minister of Labor had been informed of this stand.

The minister had also been asked to give complete power to the Royal Commission to make a decision in this dispute, but he had refused, said Mr. Livett.

Labor Dept. Officials Confer at Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Top-ranking Labor Department officials today conferred on the strike threat of Alberta and British Columbia coal miners and on unconfirmed reports that some of the men have already stopped work.

Miami Detective Denies Frame-Up On Marigny Fingerprint

By E. V. W. JONES
NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Defence counsel Godfrey Higgs, shouting excitedly, suggested today that two Miami detectives planned after the slaying of Sir Harry Oakes to obtain a finger-print which is being used in the Bahamas Supreme Court in the case against Alfred de Marigny, charged with murder.

Ending cross-examination of Capt. James O. Barker of the Miami police, Higgs told the witness, "I suggest that in your desire for gain and notoriety you have swept aside the truth and substituted fabricated evidence."
Earlier, Higgs had accused Barker of trying to incite the hatred of Lady Oakes, widow of the millionaire, against her son-in-law, the defendant.

Calmy, Barker denied all of the allegations made by Higgs.
"This is an outstanding case in which your expert assistance is required," counsel asked Barker.
"It developed that way," the witness answered.

"I suggest that in your desire for gain and notoriety you have swept aside the truth and substituted fabricated evidence."
"That is untrue."

The tenacious Higgs subsided as Higgs concluded his cross-examination, and Attorney-General Eric Hallinan picked up the questioning.

Higgs shouted his doubt that the fingerprint in evidence—the important exhibit J—was lifted from a bed screen which stood in the room where the millionaire was bludgeoned and burned to death last July.

While spectators in the courtroom listened eagerly, Higgs pressed his cross-examination of Capt. Barker, who with his Miami police force colleague, Capt. E. W. Melchen, was called to Nassau to investigate the crime.

Higgs brought up the fact that Melchen had taken De Marigny to an upstairs room at Westbourne, the Oakes estate, to question him.

"Did you go to the door of the room where Capt. Melchen was questioning the accused and ask him if 'everything was okay'?" counsel demanded, his voice rising.

"I did not," replied Barker.
"Wasn't exhibit J taken from some object in that room?"
"Definitely not."

"I suggest you and Capt. Mel-chen definitely planned to get the accused alone to get his finger-print."

"No, sir."

"I suggest exhibit J never came from that screen."

"It came from panel five on that screen."

PRINT FROM SCREEN
Barker has testified he had lifted the impression of De Marigny's little right finger from the figures screen, but that he is unable to point to the exact spot from which it was lifted.

The exchange came after Higgs had mentioned Lady Oakes, who is awaiting to a call to testify against De Marigny. At a preliminary hearing she told of ill-feeling which resulted from the twice-divorced yachtman's marriage to her daughter Nancy, who was 18 years old at the time.

"Did you or Capt. Melchen tell Lady Oakes that the assailant picked up a stick in the garage, went upstairs and hit Sir Harry, and fired the bed with the use of insecticide?" Higgs asked. "Did you say that Sir Harry was revived by the flames and attempted to fight the attacker?"
Barker denied he had done so.

Barker said he had talked by

Yugoslav Guerrillas Invade Hungary; Allied Planes Aid

LONDON (CP)—Audacious Yugoslav guerrillas crossed the Hungarian frontier today in winning battles against German and satellite troops, and some units are now fighting on Hungarian territory, a communiqué broadcast by the Yugoslav Army of Liberation announced.

The crossing was made from Zagorje province, north of Zagreb.

Extensive operations along the Dalmatian coast, in which a German column was defeated after 10 hours of fierce fighting, also was reported in the communiqué from Gen. Josip Broz (Tito).
Some 150 Nazi troops were killed or wounded.

Twenty Allied planes assisted in the Dalmatian operation, bombing enemy columns near Ston, Metkovic, Split and other localities near Knin, 45 miles north of Split, the bulletin said.

Germany's harried divisions in Yugoslavia were reported today to be facing a new Adriatic threat with the formation in northeast Italy of an army of 30,000 experienced Italian fighters whose arms are supplied by Yugoslav patriots.

RAILWAY CUT Tito's communiqué gave these details of other actions:

West of Zagreb, Partisan bands were holding their own against fierce attacks by German troops in the Zumberak area.

Southeast of Zagreb troops of the Kozara brigade destroyed a 10-mile stretch of railway and captured the towns of Biskovac, Omrova and Bistrica.

In northwest Bosnia other Partisan units destroyed an enemy battalion, captured a radio station and destroyed a 20-car military train.

Still other Partisan units smashed a German column near Lazarevac, 35 miles south of Be-grade.

The Tito communiqué said that Gen. Djukanovic, Chetnik leader fighting on the side of the Germans in Montenegro and captured a few days ago, died of wounds.

The Berlin radio claimed that Cerkina and Cabar, north of Fiume, had been conquered by German forces and that "other groups of bandits which had settled on some islands off the Dal-matian coast were annihilated."

Friday's National Liberation Party communiqué said Nazi forces attempting a landing on Brac, off the port of Split, were destroyed, but that other German forces had succeeded in landing on the Plesyca peninsula 100 miles down the coast.

(The information office of the Yugoslav government in Cairo said today that four-fifths of Montenegro and other vast stretches of Yugoslavia now are occupied by the Chetnik forces of War Minister Draja Mihailovic.)

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Hitlerites, laboring under high nerve tension as the net of military adversity tightens about them, again are having nightmares of Allied invasions of Europe.

Berlin reports activities in southern Britain, which, to German eyes, look like preparations for the long-awaited second front in France. Also, over in the Mediterranean, the Allies are said to be massing troops on the Island of Corsica, and neutral sources say there's a large concentration of Allied transports and warships in the neighborhood.

The Nazis think the Mediterranean signs could mean either of two things. The Allied leaders may be planning another landing on the west coast of Italy, or they may be headed for an invasion of southern France, through the Rhone Valley.

Hitler's soothsayer thinks a cross-Channel invasion of France may have been decided on in the Tripartite conference at Moscow.
Well, that could be. President Roosevelt indicated Friday at a press conference that the parley —which he said was a great success—was in its final phases, and that formal documents of agreement were being drafted.

One of the most important questions which was expected to come before the conference was the second front issue. That problem, which means so much to unity among the Big Three, may have been solved.

If the Moscow conference has agreed there shall be an Allied invasion of France in the immediate future, to take advantage

Coast Rangers Disband

announcement that the Pacific

OTTAWA (CP)—The R.C.A.F.
late Friday issued the names of the 24 air force personnel who are "officially reported missing somewhere in Canada," following disappearance Oct. 19 in the Gulf of St. Lawrence area of a four-motored Liberator bomber.

The plane has been the object of one of the most intensive searches in Canadian aviation history, with more than 100 planes and many naval craft involved.

Five westerners, three of them from Vancouver, were among the 24. They were: WO2. (wireless air gunner) J. A. Barabanoff, WO2. J. Lamont and Sgt. R. F.
Ware of Vancouver, Ft. Le R. F.
Fisher, Armstrong, B.C., and WO2. W. Howlett, Gahnah, Alta.

Germans Give Pledge To Pope and Vatican

LONDON (AP)—Germany has given a special pledge to respect the Pope and his official family as well as all the activities of the Vatican, it was announced Friday night.

The assurances were given by the German ambassadors at the Holy See, Baron Ernst von Weissacker, and were published in the Vatican City newspaper Osservatore Romano and announced in German both by the Berlin radio and the Vatican radio in broadcasts.

The Berlin radio quoted the German agency D.N.B. as saying "Germany will, as in the past and so also in the future, respect the dignities and activity of the Holy See as well as the sovereignty and integrity of the Vatican."

One prominent Catholic in London said the German assurances "give welcome relief," but the situation is still regarded as delicate. It is generally felt among many leading Catholics here that the Nazis have a virtual stranglehold on the Vatican.

The board ordered minimum newsmen's scales beginning at $27.50 weekly for first year of experience and ranging up to $60 for sixth year.

The Lights Go On Again

THERE WILL BE GENERAL SATISFACTION and relief in the announcement that dimout regulations in Victoria are to be lifted. For nearly a year our citizens have, in the interest of war, and we might add, for their own protection from possible attack from offshore, tolerated inconveniences. In fact, when we drove our motor cars at night with tiny slits in the headlight covers, we actually lived dangerously.

That neither bombs nor shells fell in Victoria is taken by some to mean that the measures introduced by the A.R.P. were not necessary. The truth of the matter is that this coastline was in an extremely vulnerable position. Had the United States government announced the day after the attack on Pearl Harbor the extent of the damage to its fleet, not only this coast, but the entire continent, would have been justifiably alarmed. In those dark hours the Royal Canadian Navy here did an heroic job and some day that story will be told.

We are grateful that the dread of aerial warfare has not visited us. It may seem now that the Japanese are in no position to spring the attack which our military leaders anticipated after Pearl Harbor, but, when one considers the gigantic empire the Japanese have under their control and their colossal pool of cheap labor to convert their almost unlimited natural resources into weapons of war, we have cause for serious reflection.

It may be that the thousands of A.R.P. workers, who have labored tirelessly for four years, will experience a let-down in their enthusiasm. We know that the heads of the organization have been concerned in recent months over the difficulty of keeping the groups at full strength and at top efficiency with no apparent incentive, but we hope some plan will be developed to maintain the interest of these workers, to whom the rest of our communities owe so much.

It is nice to see the lights go on again in Victoria and we raise the earnest prayer that it will not be long before the peoples of the rest of the world, particularly the brave souls in Britain who have endured so much, will be able to light up and live normal lives once more.

The Broda Affair

NATIONAL DEFENCE MINISTER RALSTON is being urged to do something about what has come to light in the case of Turk Broda, the professional hockey player.

Broda failing to obey a Selective Service order to report for military service in Toronto, was picked up by police while he was aboard a train bound for Montreal where he was going to enlist for active service and play hockey for a Montreal army team. It seems that the Toronto army people wanted Broda to play hockey on their Daggert team but the best they offered him was army pay, plus a subsistence allowance if he lived out. According to Andy Lytle of the Toronto Star, the Montreal army people offered Broda $2,400 in addition to army pay to play hockey with their team. Broda, naturally, felt the call of patriotism stronger in Montreal than in Toronto. It is reported that Broda's case is not exceptional, that dozens of other athletes have been involved in similar deals with service teams.

Organized sports are useful adjuncts to the services as morale builders and as stimulants to encourage men to keep physically fit. But when professionalism creeps in to the extent indicated here, there naturally arise questions as to whether the purpose of enlisting men in the services is not being overlooked. After all, men are being enlisted to train to fight, not to entertain people, mostly civilians, by traveling around the country playing hockey, baseball, football or prize-fighting. In addition, the reaction on the men overseas cannot be but bad. They resent the fact that Al men may remain in "cushy" service jobs at home to play box-office games and receive large bonuses from gate money.

The issue of professionalism in service sports came up when Joe Louis and Billy Conn, both of the United States Army, were scheduled for a prize fight in New York. Secretary of War Stimson intervened to stop it and save the dignity of the service. He declared that the business of soldiers was to train to fight, not to put on public box-office exhibitions. For the sake of the dignity of the Canadian services, Ottawa should take a similar stand.

Total circulation of the French underground press is now estimated at 800,000. The number of readers seems to increase in the ratio of German endeavors to discourage such intellectual exercise.

Interest coupons on Third and Fourth Victory Loan bonds are payable Monday, Nov. 1. It is a timely suggestion that holders keep their money fighting by cashing their coupons at their banks or investment dealers and reinvesting the money in Fifth Victory Bonds or in War Savings Stamps or Certificates.

Rome in Peril

DEVASTATION MAY BE THE FATE of Rome during the next few weeks. Already the Eternal City is being looted by the Germans. Priceless treasures of art have been carried off by the Nazis. What this means may be indicated by a review of the buildings available to be robbed.

The list begins with the galleries which bear the names of Barberini, Borghese, Colonna, Corsini and Doria. It includes the Palazzo Venezia, the Palazzo del Conservatori, the Villa di Papa Giulio, the Villa Medici, the houses Albani, Farnesina and Rospiolosi, the Museo Nazionale delle Terme, the Ethnographic Museum, the Petriano and Tasso museums and many less famous repositories of priceless antiquities.

Perhaps the Capitoline and the Lateran areas might be spared by the modern barbarians. The whole group of Vatican buildings, filled with pictures, rare books and manuscripts for the moment probably are as safe as they can be under prevailing conditions, but it is likely that cathedrals and churches in general are in multiple peril.

Fire, once started, would be a frightful agent of destruction in a community so closely built. The great monuments of classic times—the Forum, the Baths of Caracalla, the Colosseum, the Castello Sant'Angelo, the Theatre of Marcellus among the number—are surrounded by structures conspicuously inflammable. Not even Saint Peter's could be exempted if Rome were to be subjected to become a battlefield.

Those of us who remember the Sistine Chapel tremble to think of the price the whole world is paying for the criminal folly of the authors of the war. What compensation could Hitler and Mussolini offer for the murals of Michelangelo, Raphael, Botticelli and Ghirlandajo if they were destroyed? The conscience of mankind is shocked by the spectacle of the presumption of the plummy dictators who have hazarded the fairest fruits of civilization not merely in the Prima Urbes but everywhere.

Harvest Home

THE VICTORY GARDEN HARVEST IS in and satisfactions they never before knew are being experienced by many Victorians as they survey with pride the product of their labors over the last six months. Faint now are the memories of sore backs of the late spring, the dirty finger nails, the incessant battle against weeds and insects and the long hours spent in pouring water on a parched soil during the driest summer we have experienced for a long period.

Today the basement is the show place of many homes. Callers are invited to "come downstairs and see what I have grown." Potatoes are sacked, onions hang from the wall to dry, marrows and squash rest on the floor, tomatoes in various degrees of ripening repose on straw, and enough carrots, beets and parsnips have been plucked from the beds outdoors to supply the household requirements for some days.

The housewife is not letting her husband gather all the glory. She wants you to see what she has done to "Speed the Victory." In the cupboards are 20, 30, maybe 50, quarts of canned tomatoes. Perhaps she will have conquered the knack of canning peas successfully. And she will show you bottles of canned fish, which her husband caught on his "off day." Naturally, there will be the bountiful supply of the regular preserves of peaches, pears and berries.

There is no question but that the Victory Gardens in this area have been a pleasant success and that they will go a long way this winter to ensure a steady supply of vegetables for our kitchens. If it had only been as easy to get the coal bins filled and the required wood, winter would offer no disagreeable prospect for any citizen in the city.

If you think you have a kick coming, use it to kick in for Victory Bonds.

In two months every youngster will love a fat man—dressed up as Santa Claus.

That war production which we were urged to increase to "keep 'em rolling" is now effective on all fronts to keep 'em rolling.

The best Christmas we can have at home will come from the knowledge that the boys overseas are having a better one. Send those packages before Sunday night.

Relaxation of censorship restrictions on publication of weather forecasts is probably just the beginning of an easing up of other censorship restrictions. But probably the process will be slow because of the instinctive habit of government agencies to hold on with the grip of grim death to all the authority they are ever given and all the while grabbing for more.

Credible rumors come from several sources that the Nazi battleships Scharnhorst and Luetzow have been sabotaged by their own crews in a Norwegian fjord. The personnel, according to one man who claims to have been an eyewitness, is disheartened and rebellious. From other sources come reports that the Nazi sailors fear being forced into a suicide venture against the British fleet. Whether these reports are true or not, there seems little doubt that they know the war is lost. How long they can be held to a hopeless fight there is no way of telling. Germany probably will crack before she is climactically beaten in battle. We must plan as for a 10-year war, but we have the right to hope that the break-up of Nazism will come long before that.

PROGRESS REPORT

AT A TIME like this, when nothing of importance is happening in the world, and time hangs heavy on the hands of a peaceful, settled and immovable civilization, the public, I am confident, will be glad to receive further news of the bantams next door.

Not that there is very much to tell, but I had expected to be able to convey important tidings before this. You will recall, if you keep abreast of the more important news of the time, that Mr. Beak attempted to shoot the bantam roosters next door, the five noisy ones who serenade the neighborhood at 5 a.m. regularly. You will remember that this project ended disastrously when the kick-back of Mr. Beak's shotgun broke his false teeth and sent him home, rather annoyed.

Well, the next chapter in this curious history, now revealed to the scientific world for the first time, concerns one of the roosters who had been callously palmed off on an unfortunate family in Oak Bay. The head of this household is a doctor of great skill and learning who immediately decided to rid himself of the bantam's crowing, if not by medical means, then by mere murder. Taking his .22 in hand, therefore, he shot directly at the bantam rooster which jumped, as if hit, flopped away and did not reappear until next day. When it did appear it had a stiff neck and it never crowed again. The doctor tells me that he nicked the crowing nerve, and thus performed with a .22 bullet an operation well-known to medicine. He says, of course, he did it on purpose and achieved precisely the result he intended. But this is not a method recommended to laymen. Only a doctor should try it, a doctor who is very handy with a .22, and who is fond of bantam roosters first.

DESPERATE MEASURES

AS THEY HAD no doctor and no .22 next door, they decided finally on desperate measures. They could not cut out the crowing nerve in the roosters' necks but they could cut off the crow completely with one, sharp lateral blow. Therefore, the place of execution was made ready next door. A stout block of oak was placed in a convenient place. The axe was sharpened. The big boy from next door, the owner of the bantams, practiced with the axe on the block for the better part of a day until he could hit a pencil line with the axe blade once out of three blows.

However, it was realized at this point that to execute a bantam you must first catch it. This, it appears, is fundamental. And catching a bantam if you haven't tried it, is no cinch. An ordinary chicken is trusting, foolish and clumsy. You can easily drive it into a corner and capture it; but the bantam is wily, suspicious and slippery. (It's the game blood in it, says the big boy from next door.)

After all other methods had failed, the owner finally consulted experts and built a trap. First he tried the ancient figure-four trap which had been used, I gather, since the time of the cave man. But somehow the figure-four wouldn't work when the test came, and all the bait disappeared without discomfort to the bantams. Whereupon an elaborate maze was built of wire, to attract the roosters in but, once in, to confuse and baffle them so that they could not find their way out. But they not only found their way in but ate all the grain laid there to lure them and then retired. They had no trouble finding the way out. (It's the game blood in them, said the big boy from next door.)

IN THE DARK

BY THIS TIME he was in despair but he finally decided that he could catch them if he came upon them in the dark. Therefore, when it grew dark last night he climbed the oak tree where all the bantams roost (and crow at 5 a.m.). He crawled upward and upward, silently in the night, and at precisely the right moment he turned his flashlight upon the bantams and as they stood, bewildered and uncertain, he grasped them by the legs. When he came down he had three bantam roosters carefully hidden under his sweater, which was bulging curiously. He said it was not particularly comfortable for him and I dare say it was not particularly comfortable for the roosters either.

Then occurred the dismal denouement of this whole miserable business. The sister of the big boy next door was instructed to hold the first bantam rooster by the legs, to drape his head neatly over the oak block. This she did and averted her face for she could not bear to see blood. Her brother took up his axe. He ran his thumb over it to make sure that it was thoroughly sharp and his cheeks had turned strangely pale. He told his sister to hold firm and make sure the neck did not move. He took careful aim at the beautiful plumed neck which lay across the block. He took a last look at the rooster's eyes which regarded him with some interest and concern. He lifted the axe far back in the air and cried: "Watch out!" But he hesitated, the axe poised there above his head, and his face seemed to have gone paler still and he looked as if he might be sick at any moment. And as he paused his sister emitted a feeble squeal and dropped the rooster's legs. The bird fluttered away with an indignant look and some words of earnest protest.

"What," said the big boy to me, "would you expect from a girl?" But his look of relief was so transparent that even I was not fooled. That is why the bantams still serenade us at 5 a.m.

Advice to English Boys

By JOHN DAUPHINEE
OTTAWA.

TIPS ON CANADIAN WAYS

THE R.A.F. MAN posted to Canada for training does not come unprepared for the changed conditions he will meet. Somewhere in his belongings is a little blue booklet called "Service Overseas," which is distributed by British authorities to put the boys right in advance.

"Service Overseas" is a revised version of the pamphlet "When You Go to Canada," published by the British Air Ministry.

The picture presented is certainly favorable. The "pace of life," and even the manner of speech are more brisk, says the booklet—"action is the keynote." "Forget that 'we don't do it like that.' Who cares if we don't? Certainly not the Canadians or the people of the United States. Possibly we might do it 'like that' with profit," says the booklet.

WEATHER NOTES

THE CANADIAN winter apparently bothered the anonymous author. He acknowledges that frostbite is a real danger.

"G& by the thermometer," is the warning to the R.A.F., "when it tells you that it is really cold out of doors, just believe it. In winter if you get frost-bitten do not neglect it. Probably some passer-by will see the signs before you feel the effects, and will stop to massage the affected part (most often the ears) with snow, to get the circulation going."

"Don't regard this as an affront. It is a kindly service."

For the record, here are a few Canadian delights from "Overseas Service": "The standard of domestic comfort is high"; "Engine whistles are not our shrill, piercing signals; they are deep-throated, massive things"; "railway passengers talk to each other without formal introduction, and nobody minds; 'eggs and bacon mean just that—a very good dish,' and shoeshine parlors provide a 'staggeringly bright polish' for '10 or even 15 cents.'"

Over 185,000 trained wartime volunteer forest fire fighters are now organized to help protect American forests from fall fires.

Victorian In Cast Of Patriotic Revue

Elizabeth Garrett, former Victoria College and U.B.C. girl, now one of the leaders in the patriotic revue "Pull Together Canada," has arrived here on vacation from Toronto and Montreal. She is accompanied by Naomi Woodcock of Toronto, also a member of the cast.

Miss Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Garrett, Hampshire Road, has been a member of the cast for nearly two years now, traveling through the large manufacturing cities of Ontario to the mining towns of the Atlantic coast. Canadian counter-part of "You Can Defend America," produced in the United States, the revue has been seen by thousands of war workers in the eastern provinces.

"Both the Canadian and American revues have been done with an idea of gaining greater understanding and a united effort among war workers," Miss Garrett said. "Wherever the cast has played production managers have been enthusiastic about the results saying their work has helped unite different factions in the communities that have never met face to face in friendly exchange of views before.

For instance, a year ago the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation with the United Mine Workers and United Steel Workers jointly invited "Pull Together Canada" to Nova Scotia where for generations industrial relations had been sustained. A coal crisis confronted Canada and a short time before slowdowns in the mines cut daily production as much as 50 per cent while absenteeism sometimes rose as high as 40 per cent.

In the next two months the cast played 44 times and altogether 33,000 persons saw the revue. They also visited the homes of managers, workers and went down into the mines talking to the men. Results immediately showed in improved production charts and spokesman for the Stellarton mineworkers' local declaring: "Before they had been 24 hours in town their influence had already been felt in a more reasonable attitude between the union and company officials."

Summing up their work the Halifax Chronicle said: "Theirs is a contribution to the nation's fighting strength which cannot be overestimated; for it throws a searching light on a noticeable need of the moment: 'Pull Together Canada!'

While in the Maritimes "Pull Together Canada" also played to four packed performances of sailors at the request of naval authorities at H.M.C.S. Stadacona. Premiere of the revue at the Capitol Theatre in Ottawa was attended by the Governor-General and Princess Alice, while one of the Toronto performances was given before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor at the Royal York.

Against Signing Boys

By CHARLIE EDWARDS
TORONTO (CP) — There's something anomalous about George Hardy's reported statement to an Edmonton hockey meeting that "in normal times juveniles should not be signed to professional contracts."

Hardy, past president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and president of the International Ice Hockey Association, declared that it is extremely difficult now for the National League to get players but that the major circuit has "agreed that once the war is over it will be prepared to join in framing an agreement which will protect juvenile players."

Offhand we'd say that if it is wrong to sign juveniles (boys under 18) to professional contracts "in normal times" as Hardy puts it, it is that much worse to sign them in abnormal times when civilization is upset by war.

Objections given at the Edmonton meeting to signing of juveniles was that professional offers "lured" them away from the class room or war industry.

Actually this corner sees no objection to signing of juveniles if the professional clubs involved see that the youngsters finish their schooling, as most N.H.L. clubs do. Parental consent should be all that is needed.

MORE POPPYCOCK

However, this corner takes exception to the Hardy statement as an example of the poppycock frequently fed the public by sport executives.

What Hardy meant was that the C.A.H.A. should not step on N.H.L. toes. The National League needs players now, and right or wrong the amateur body should not object. After the war the N.H.L. will gladly sign an agreement not to sign juveniles because by that time it will want only mature players and not boys under 18.

INCIDENTALLY

Edmonton is on the threshold of another big basketball season with 18 senior men's teams, many of them formed by United States servicemen. George Hall and George Carradus, Guelph, Ont., five-pin bowlers, rolled an exhibition series of 10 games. Hall averaging 302 and Carradus 280. Carradus fired a total of 1,153 for three consecutive games with strings of 357, 396 and 400.

If suddenly your small school becomes big time.

And his mind probably drifted back over the last 11 years since the University of Chicago let him out as having outlived his usefulness, and when he had become a weary old man tucked away at the College of Pacific, living in the past as he puttered around trying to teach the boys how to play football.

SURPRISE INTERRUPTION

The peaceful life was rudely interrupted by war, and one day the navy announced it was taking over certain schools for training purposes, and that its navy and marine trainees would be allowed to compete in varsity athletics.

College of Pacific was on the list, and suddenly there dropped down on Stockton a group of husky young men, and in the group were many good football players, the likes of which he hadn't had under his wing since those days years ago at Chicago, when his Maroons were a power in the football world.

Blessed with this windfall of sturdy, football-trained youths, the old man had a chance to show that the "passing years" — 81 of them — had robbed him of none of his cunning, and he quickly blended the individual stars into a solid, compact football team which in no time established itself as one of the gridiron powers of the United States.

And suddenly the newspapers and the magazines and the newsreels discovered him, and he swooped down on Stockton for stories and pictures, as they had done years and years ago.

And the scrapbook gets fatter and fatter.

SAME OLD STAGG

Amos Alonzo Stagg, 81-year-old Yale and Chicago football immortal in his 54th season of coaching, is as enthusiastic as any College of Pacific player as he leaps from bench in moments of excitement.

Crack Army Ice Team on Show at Nanaimo Tonight

NANAIMO (CP) — Island hockey fans will get their first glimpse of Pacific Command's puck squad — army's Nanaimo based soldier entry in the 1943-44 Pacific Coast senior amateur ice circuit — when the troops go into action here Saturday night in a preview fixture.

Climaxing a strenuous two-week training spree, the army ice team will split up into opposing units under the eagle eyes of Nick Metz, ex-Toronto Maple Leaf star and former Chicago Black Hawk Bill Carse. The troops will get their initial taste of competitive action in preparation for their 1943-44 opening league game against the crack Royal Canadian Navy sextette, scheduled for Nanaimo Nov. 6.

They will play regulation periods. Following the pre-season skirmish, playing-coach Carse hopes to be able to come up with a star-studded line-up with which to protect army's western Canada puck crown and possibly annex the coveted Allan Cup next spring. Reds, under Nick Metz, will see the following line-up: Ray Reigner, goal; Julian Sawchuk, Nick Metz and Steve Stamant, defence; Mel Lundie, Pinky Melnyk, Amy Dufault, subs; Sutherland, Sammy Kennedy, Jimmy O'Hearn and Jimmy McIndoe will be the forwards.

Coaching the blues, Bill Carse will have either navy's Chuck Raynor or air force's Keith Langill, guarding the net. On defence he will have Terry Reardon, Dutch Collier and George Marinoff. Forwards will be Joffre Desilets, Mars Marzo, Bill Carse, Hal Mohns, Len McCartney, Elmer Kreiler and Jack Russell. Army's number one goalie is yet to be named, and defenceman Dave Mackay will miss the preview.

BOOKS

Aviation Holds World's Future
"THE AIR FUTURE," by Burnett Hershey, published by Duell, Sloan and Pearce.

PEOPLE have quit laughing at the Wright brothers. That queer contraption they flew at Kitty Hawk has become a deadly tool of war, one without which no nation can survive. But while engineers are devoting their time to perfecting the airplane as a weapon, quietly behind the scenes political students are mapping its future after the war.

Burnett Hershey, in his "The Air Future," gives some enlightening facts and opinions on the part aviation will play in the future.

By SCHOLEM ASCH

A beautiful and moving novel based on the life of St. Paul. It depicts the struggles of early Christianity to rise above the cruelty and barbarity that was Rome. A desirable addition to any private library.

Esquimalt Leads Island Loan Units

Esquimalt is leading the Vancouver Island units at noon today in the Fifth Victory Loan campaign with 67 per cent of her quota of $625,000. Second in line is Nanaimo with 60 per cent of a $725,000 objective.

Victoria is sixth out of the eight units, having so far subscribed just 51 per cent of her $4,200,000. Ahead of the city unit are Courtenay, 58 per cent; Cowichan, 54 per cent, and Oak Bay, 53 per cent. Subscriptions need to be stepped up considerably if the island objective of $9,250,000 is to be achieved, National War Finance officials say. The entire island unit, at the end of the second week of the national drive, has only 54 per cent, or $4,988,400, against the required total.

Figures released at noon today are as follows: Victoria, $2,183,000 ($4,200,000); Saanich, $460,000 ($950,000); Oak Bay, $503,100 ($950,000); Esquimalt, $433,250 ($625,000); Courtenay, $286,700 ($450,000); Nanaimo, $431,000 ($725,000) and Alberni, $300,200 ($620,000).

Combined quota of navy personnel and dockyard civilians has been exceeded by 15 per cent, according to latest official reports. The R.A.F. has doubled its original voluntary quota, and the R.C.A.F., although actual figures cannot be released, is also well above objective. The R.C.A. canvass is now under way, and with 91 per cent subscribed, is expected to reach the total in the next few days.

Members of the powerboat squadron will meet at 8 Monday in the new headquarters, Room 19, 635 Fort Street.

Formal election flavor will be added to Tuesday's City Council meeting with introduction of a motion to ask candidates to avoid the polling station on election day. Also listed for the meeting are tributes to the memories of the late J. O. Cameron and J. L. Tait. Another motion will ask department heads to have estimates prepared on or before Jan. 15 next.

ASTHMA

Science says that when iodides are taken into the system, they are bound in the lungs and bronchial tubes in 15 to 20 minutes, acting as a powerful expectorant. Thus the thick phlegm is softened and expelled. This accounts for the great success of "David's Asthma Remedy No. 7806." Try it. Cunningham, Owl and others have it. 64 doses $2.00.

W. M. Ritchie, chief inspector of fur grading and inspection, federal Department of Agriculture, is at the Empress today from Ottawa. He is on a routine inspection of fur raising farms in the west.

Construction Climbs On Active October

Extensive construction during the month, centred largely around the 44 dwellings being erected by Wartime Housing, carried building totals for the year to date close to those for the first 10 months of 1942.

The weekly figure amounted to $145,240, including the Wartime Housing project and an $11,700 freight shed and loading platform being built by Leslie Scott for the Canadian National Railways at the corner of Johnson and Tye Road.

During the month 98 permits were issued for a total of $213,448. That raised the yearly figure to date to $907,846 and represented 672 projects. In October last year, when only two dwellings were listed, 64 jobs were undertaken at a cost of $61,528, figures for the first 10 months showed 636 permits issued for work valued at $909,698.

Y.M.C.A. Reaches Membership Quota

Current Y.M.C.A. membership drive in Victoria, which had an objective of 350 new signed-up members, reached a total of 346 members with $329.50 raised in fees by Thursday night, E. G. Rowebottom, campaign chairman, announced today.

"As there are many valuable cards in the hands of our workers, it was decided to keep the books open until Wednesday, Nov. 3," he said.

Those holding cards were asked to turn them in, whether completed or not, by Wednesday, Mr. Rowebottom said.

By Thursday night Warren Martin had won the "V" for Victory, and Sam Hill the Honor Flag of the membership campaign. S. J. D. Clark, C. Carl and W. W. Martin headed the red, white and blue divisions, respectively.

Canadians in Italy Buy Victory Bonds

Sounds of battle as Canadian soldiers attack an Italian town will be relayed by the CBC broadcasting station Monday night at 8.15, following a description by Canadian war correspondent Matthew Halton of the same soldiers buying Fifth Victory Loan bonds. It was learned here today.

Canadian forces in Italy have asked for an extension of one week to the loan campaign as conditions made it impossible to start canvass on time. The actual broadcast from the Italian theatre of war will be carried right across Canada.

Living Scorpion Now At Museum Here

A living scorpion found in a crate of pomegranates from California by L. E. Johnson of 3264 Alder Street, has been placed in the Provincial Museum, where it may be viewed by visitors to the museum. G. Clifford Carl, director, announced today.

"The animal is a small specimen about three inches in length, but like the other members of the group, it bears a formidable-looking spine on the end of a whip-like tail, and no doubt is capable of inflicting a severe sting," Mr. Carl said.

The specimen, he said, appeared to be a close relative of the scorpion found in the interior of B.C., particularly around Penitence, Oliver and Osoyoos. In these areas scorpions may be found under stones on dry hillsides and their sting is comparable to that of a wasp or bee, but may be more serious if received on neck or face, according to Mr. Carl.

Scorpions feed principally on spiders, flies and other insects, he said.

In Police Court

FO. James W. Cockrane, R.C.A.F., was fined $25 in city court today on a dangerous driving charge which followed a collision Oct. 12 at Shelbourne and Hillside. The accused had pleaded guilty earlier this week.

A 67-year-old war pensioner, admitting his guilt on a charge of drunkenness, today received suspended sentence. He said he was not in the best of health and had never been in court before.

Charles G. Collard, who Friday was fined $40 and had his license suspended three months for dangerous driving, had the sentence relative to the license revoked on his promise that he would use his car only in connection with his work at V.M.D. The accused volunteered a promise that he would never touch a drop of liquor. Three motorists, guilty on parking charges, paid a total of $7.50 in fines.

W. M. Ritchie, chief inspector of fur grading and inspection, federal Department of Agriculture, is at the Empress today from Ottawa. He is on a routine inspection of fur raising farms in the west.

G. H. Stevens, Royal Bank Manager, Retires in January

G. H. STEVENS

MONTREAL — G. H. Stevens for the last 17 years manager of the Government Street, Victoria, branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, will retire Jan. 31, it was learned at the banks head office here today. He will be succeeded by E. G. MacMinn, at present manager of the Halifax branch of the Royal Bank.

Born in England, Mr. Stevens came with his parents as a young boy to Vancouver in 1891. After a short time with the C.P.R., he joined the Royal Bank in 1903, serving at various Vancouver branches. Just 10 years after he began his banking career he was appointed manager of the Robson Street branch, where he remained for four years, going to New Westminster as manager in 1917. After three years there Mr. Stevens spent a year at the Montreal head office, and another year in Winnipeg. Returning to Vancouver in 1923 he remained there until 1927, when he went to Victoria.

Mr. Stevens, who makes his home at 2664 Orchard Avenue, Victoria, is a member of Kiwanis, Union and Victoria Golf clubs, and chairman of the executive committee of the provincial branch of the St. John Ambulance Association. Both his sons are in uniform, the elder, Kenneth Stevens, with the Royal Engineers, and the younger, Lieut. Frank Stevens, with the R.C.N. V.R.

Halloween Parties Held Day Ahead; Schools Entertain

Spooks, goblins and humans, who help them in celebration of Halloween, operated on a swing-shift this week-end, one day ahead of the traditional evening when witches ride their broomsticks. With the night of magic and mystery falling on Sunday, schools, P.T.A.'s, the Kinsmen Club and City Council's celebration committee spread observance of the festivity over Friday afternoon and evening and prepared to resume activities to-night.

All organized programs in Greater Victoria were indoor events, mainly in the schools. Friday afternoon Bank Street and Central Junior High were centres of fun and frolic with games, sing-songs and distribution of favors featured.

In the evening interest centred in Sir James Douglas, Quadra and Victoria West auditoriums, where programs arranged by parents and teachers, with the assistance of the celebration committee, kept the costumed crowds of youngsters happy. Candy, gathered with difficulty, was distributed by Mayor McGavin, Ald. W. H. Davies and Ald. D. D. McTavish at the different centres.

EVENTS TONIGHT

Tonight the carnival crowd of Halloween figures will dance and sing at South Park; Margaret Jenkins, Oaklands and Burnside School auditoriums as well as at Monterey, the Willows and the B.C. Protestant Orphanage. Films provided by the Kinsmen Club will be shown in the theatre, with the children in the Orphanage.

In Saanich and Esquimalt schools concert parties were staged Friday afternoon under the organization of teachers. City Police Chief J. A. McLellan today expressed appreciation of children off the streets in recent years. He reminded the youngsters no one objected to their innocent fun, but said vandalism should be tolerated less this year than ever, since destruction of property now frequently entailed loss which could not be replaced under war conditions.

Cpt. Bernard Beakins, R.C.A.F., today pleaded not guilty to a charge of indecent assault. He was represented by Carew Martin, K.C., under the legal aid. Trial was set for Tuesday.

Commissioned in the R.C.A.F. after completing his course at Claresholm, Alta., PO. D. D. Davies has returned to duty after spending leave with his parents at their home, 3038 Cedar Hill Road. PO. Davies was born in Edmonton, coming to Victoria in 1937. He attended Victoria College and, before enlisting, worked at the Newport Pharmacy.

Crowds Inspect Hurricane Fighter

View Street, between Douglas and Broad Streets, took on the appearance of a busy airport runway Friday and today as crowds of people visited an R.C.A.F. Hurricane fighter aircraft placed on display in connection with the Fifth Victory Loan.

The exhibit opened Friday afternoon and will remain until late tonight. It was estimated thousands of people visited the scene to inspect the single-seated fighter and learn of its capabilities and record in the Battle of Britain from R.C.A.F. pilots who mingled with the crowds answering questions.

The public availed itself of the opportunity to inspect at close hand the aircraft's cockpit and control panel by means of a platform constructed over one wing. Long lines of people waited their turn to see the "nerve centre" of the fighter.

This afternoon Victory Loan speakers addressed the crowds stressing the need for more of this type of aircraft which their purchases of bonds would supply. Army Garrison Band also gave a program at the scene.

Price Board Fears Coupon Hoarding

Within the last week, stores have reported so few canned milk G coupons turned in, that officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board today, expressed fears for the future reserve supply of canned milk for infants and diabetarians.

"We feel that many people with coupons are holding them and purchasing free supply canned milk. They seem to be hoarding their coupons," one official said.

"If people don't use their coupons there will be no reserve stock for them. Dealers were asked the first month of the partial rationing to withhold 25 per cent of their stock to take care of coupon holders. In future months they could base their reserve, on the amount they sold with coupons turned in, the first month."

Yacht Club Members See Sicily Films

"Victory in Sicily," an interesting movie short showing the United Nations landing to gain Sicilian beaches, in which Canadian armed forces played a prominent part, was screened Thursday night at the clubhouse of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club by Clarence R. D. Ferris of the Provincial Travel Bureau.

B.C. travelogues of Vancouver Island and the Peace River country were also shown. The occasion was the first of the season's monthly gatherings of Victoria yachtsmen to take the place of the classes previously held under naval auspices.

Announcement is made by the R.V.Y.C. that the ladies' auxiliary will stage an auction sale Nov. 6 to raise funds to purchase floor covering for the front hall of the clubhouse.

Army Enlistments

Enlistments in the Canadian Active Army at the Bay Street Armories during the week ending Oct. 27, included Hubert Nelson Morry, Samuel Clark, Russell William Clark and Walter Richard Banner, all of Victoria; George Alexander Robertson, Sandwick; James Robert Leadam, Courtenay; John William McNally, Fairbridge; Norman Edwin Oliver, Nanaimo, and Colin Gray Cameron, Port Alice.

C.W.A.C.'s joining up here were Marjorie P. Baker, Jean Muriel Lane and Alberta Helen Morgan.

A.R.P. Activities

District 9—Wardens will meet in Britannia Hall, View Street, at 8, Monday.

Saanich Special Police—Officers will meet at Royal Oak Institute Hall Monday for training.

District 8—Senior wardens and patrol leaders will meet Monday to consider reorganization of district. First aid class will meet Wednesday. Both meetings at 8 at Red Cross Hall, Michigan Street.

Two naval ratings, Allan Jones and Francis Gommer, were charged separately in city court today with retaining burberry coats the property of Better Price Tailors, 1446 Douglas Street. The pair reserved plea and election and were released into the custody of naval authorities. The charges were remanded until next Friday.

Commissioned in the R.C.A.F. after completing his course at Claresholm, Alta., PO. D. D. Davies has returned to duty after spending leave with his parents at their home, 3038 Cedar Hill Road. PO. Davies was born in Edmonton, coming to Victoria in 1937. He attended Victoria College and, before enlisting, worked at the Newport Pharmacy.

British Airmen Double Loan Quota

First R.A.F. station in Canada to reach its quota in the Fifth Victory Loan campaign, a west coast British base commanded by Group Capt. E. L. Wurde today doubled its original objective.

The station's $20,000 quota was reached in the first two days of the drive and canvassing of personnel continued. The British airmen responded by subscribing $40,000 by noon today.

"We are proud of our record," said FO. C. B. MacLachlan, station loan committee chairman. "Our men here know what war is from first-hand information in England and other theatres of war. They realize their dollars are needed to carry out the war successfully. That is why they are giving whole-hearted support to the Canadian government in this Fifth Victory Loan."

Many of the English airmen, FO. MacLachlan said, would have liked to take out higher denomination of bonds than they did, but some of their pay was assigned to the purchase of British War Bonds in England.

Members of the Victory Loan committee on the station included Sqdn. Ldr. J. Jonson, Flt. Lt. F. A. Elbourn, Flt. Lt. G. Spiers, FO. A. L. Wilkinson, FO. F. A. McLeod, Warrant Officer I. M. Day, Sqdn. Ldr. J. G. Flaherty and FO. E. J. L. Underhill.

Red Cross Ship Lost

Propose Emergency Field

PORT ALBERNI (CP) — City council has received a letter from William Lawson, civil aviation commissioner at Vancouver, in which he recommends to the Western Air Command of the R.C.A.F. that consideration be given to construction of an emergency air field at Port Alberni.

Sgt. Pilot I. A. Macdonald, Courtenay, received his wings Friday when air students graduated from No. 39 S.F.T.S., R.C.A.F., Swift Current, Sask.

Trial of Murray Lewis Framp-ton, merchant seaman, on a charge of indecent assault, was set for next Thursday in city court today. Bail was set at $1,000 at the request of Joseph McKenna, counsel for the accused.

Canadians Want Mailed Fist Not Velvet Glove After War

AFTER THE WAR SHOULD CANADA SEND FOOD FREE TO GERMANY AND JAPAN?

TORONTO—The way the average Canadian feels about it, the United Nations—and this, of course, includes Canada—should not be expected to send free shipments of food to the people of Germany and Japan, to help them to their feet after the war.

The Canadians who feel most strongly about this are the nation's primary food producers, the farmers.

The question which the Gallup Poll put to the Canadian people, through a carefully balanced cross-section, was:

"After the war, would you approve or disapprove if Canada, along with the United Nations, were to give food supplies free to the people of Germany and Japan, until they get on their feet, even if this means that rationing will have to be continued in Canada?"

This is the way Canadians answered the question: Disapprove 59%, approve 33%, undecided 8%.

Thus, Canadians who, previous polls have shown, were in favor of free aid to our fighting Allies, are still in the same stern mood towards the enemy shown by the results of Gallup polls about the sort of treatment Germany and Japan should get, after victory.

BIG CITIES GENEROUS

The strongest sentiment in favor of free food for the defeated enemy is found in the big cities of Canada, and the strongest against is found on the farms.

There is also a marked difference in the point of view expressed by the various income groups across Canada. Those in the upper income groups are much closer to a 50-50 split in opinion than those in the lower, as the following breakdown, made on the basis of income, shows:

Income Group	Disapprove	Approve	Undec.
Under $6,000 pop. - 64%	64	29	7
$6,000-10,000 pop. - 28%	28	33	39
Over $10,000 pop. - 8%	8	43	49

Upper income - 49% Disapprove Approve Undec.
Middle income - 27% 33% 40%
Lower income - 84% 29% 8%

In showing a majority vote against free food to conquered countries, the average Canadian is only being consistent with previously expressed views as to the treatment of Germany and Japan.

Gallup polls over the past year have shown that, after the war, they want the mailed fist, rather than the velvet glove, to be the symbol of our treatment of the enemy, in order that aggressor nations may feel the ultimate result of aggression. While they feel a league of nations plan would work if United States participated, they do not want Germany, Japan or Italy admitted, at least for some years after the war. They voted in favor of maintaining a strong armed force rather than disarmament, and also want Canada to maintain her large, war-built navy rather than revert to pre-war naval strength.

They voted in favor of a year's compulsory military training for every able-bodied young man in Canada after the war, and Quebec, which has opposed raising of men for overseas compulsion, nevertheless, voted with the rest of Canada on post-war military training. Canadians have also, through the polls, expressed their belief that the United Nations should take over complete control of the enemies' economic and political life for a set period of time, rather than grant them complete freedom of action.

4 Cars Derailed In North Ontario

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP)—A few passengers were shaken up when four cars of a Canadian Pacific Railway transcontinental train from Toronto were derailed 40 miles east of Chapleau, Friday.

C.P.R. officials said the cause of the derailment was not known, but the mail and baggage car, the diner and two sleeping cars left the rails. No serious injuries were

Hurry up that better world

....for him...for yourself!

IT ISN'T LONG BETWEEN ECSTATIC BABYHOOD and I eager, striving, hope-filled manhood.

You know yourself how often you've said: "It seems only yesterday he was a tiny wee chap. Look at him now. He's grown up!"

Yes, all the tens of thousands of cute little fellows kicking joyfully in their baby beds now will be grown people in the twinkling of an eye.

Grown to live in what sort of a world? Just how far can we build from war's desolation to a happy, brilliant world in that short span?

Probably a long way!

But the "How far?" has a companion question: "How soon?"

How soon will Victory come? What day, what hour, will the flaming news leap round the world that the enemy surrenders unconditionally?

Pursue that question right down to its very end and you'll get the answer. It depends on how earnestly each one of us works and saves and lends. In the final analysis it depends on all of us — on our willingness to stretch to the utmost our abilities to buy Victory Bonds.

So buy again—and again—for our future and for the future of the little fellows who will be men in the twinkling of an eye. Make sure it will be unconditional surrender—that we will win the peace as well as the war—that life in the future will be life in security, freedom and abundance.

HOW TO BUY. Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you or place it with any branch bank or trust company. You can also buy Bonds through your employer for cash or on the Payroll Savings Plan. Or send your order to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Any one of these agencies will be glad to give you every assistance in completing your application. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger.

See Invasion Moves:

LONDON (AP)—Invasion-conscious Germans have reported increased military activity observed by their reconnaissance planes in south England. The Berlin radio said a thrust across the Channel might be in preparation, to stem from deliberations in the Tripartite Conference at Moscow. The broadcast told of seeing a considerable increase in the volume of shipping in harbors on Britain's south coast, increased activity by mine-sweepers in the Channel and fresh concentrations of troop units.

What's Cookin'?

That's an important question, Johnny. And if we speak for most Canadian homes today the answer is "plenty".

Food rationing notwithstanding, Canadians are eating better and growing stronger now than before the war. This we have learned: that food in plenty is not enough. Without a knowledge of food laws no nation can be properly nourished.

"What's cooking" in Canadian kitchens today are the balanced nutritional foods of a healthy nation. They are a tribute to the women of Canada who study and select them.
